The Committee solicited the assistance of the teachers and pupils in the Cram and Center Harbor schools in the memorial exercises, which was given most cheerfully.

As the services were to be on the 29th instead of the 30th the school committee cordially gave their consent for the scholars to participate, and by their own presence, added to the dignity and patriotism of the occasion. At the Cram Cemetery, where rests one of the revolutionary soldiers. Mrs. James R. Lovett presented her school, who gave readings and recitations of a stirring martial order, appropriate to the spirit of the day and finely rendered.

Mr. James R. Lovett then made an effective speech to the children, on the duty they owe to the state and the offering of life itself to the nation, when possible war clouds may gather in the future. The exercises at Center Harbor were in the afternoon and line was formed at two o'clock, in the school yard, and march commenced.

Mrs. Dow and Miss Glidden marshalled the children, Mrs. Kelley and her school also joined and the line proceeded to the Village Cemetery, where, after prayer by Rev. Mrs. Hammond, Mrs. Dow and Mrs. Kelley from their schools, gave readings, recitations and a poem, all being most appropriate and very patriotic. Miss Simpson gave a solo which was fully appreciated. Mr. Archibald Anthon spoke feelingly of the patriots of the past and of the debt of honor the children owe to the future.

The cornetist with the calls, "Lights out, sleep on" added to the solemnity of the occasion.

TOWN OF CENTER HARBOR

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

In writing the annual report for the school year, we feel to congratulate the town and scholars for having so very succesful schools during the whole year, and also that the School Board have passed through the trials and annoyances of the office with only a few scratches that we hope will leave no sears. Not very many know the perplexities of the School Board. Dealing with the teachers and scholars is a pleasure compared with the criticisms of parents. We are often put to our wit's end how to steer our craft among the breakers without running against some boulder.

Our teachers are conscientious and trying to do their whole duty in the place they are asked to fill, but failing in the least, then school board look out and stand from under. Something is liable to drop on you. While we are aware of our own failings in the performance of our duties we do feel that some responsibility rests upon the parents, and especially on the mothers. They should make it a part of their duties to visit the school when in session to see how the money is being expended. Do not feel afraid to visit your schools. It is your privilege and duty. You, the parents, pay the bills, and who have a better right to know the progress made and how the money is spent.

Do not find fault with the teachers and school board until you have seen for yourselves what is going on in the school room. It is your business and the school board is your servant, ready to do what is for the best interest for those who will soon fill our places in the town and community.

Let us make our school houses and grounds more attractive, second only to the home so that in after years the children who now attend our schools can look back with pleasant remembrances to the happy school days.

Make the school houses and grounds attractive. If any are in the highway, have them moved out in a more suitable location.

Let strangers when passing through be lead to admire the school houses and grounds in Center Harbor. What better advertisement could we have?

Support the schools, not only with your money, but with your influence and presence in the school room.

In passing we cannot fail to mention the names of our faithful teachers. The grammer school was taught, spring term, by Mrs. Dow fall term by Miss Hammond, primary school for the whole year was taught by Miss Glidden, the Cram school for the whole year was taught by Mrs. Lovett, the Hawkins school was taught by Miss Berry. These are all experienced teachers, well qualified and faithful in their duties in the school room.

The Town House school was taught by Miss Pearl Leighton. This was her first school and was very successful, one thing that showed her faithfulness and the attendance of her scholars, every one of them being on the Roll of Honor. The Hawkins school was taught by Miss Rena Harvey. This was her first school. While it is a venture and some risk to hire young teachers, yet we made no mistake in giving these two young ladies schools in our town, for both of them did excellent work. We predict for them successful careers as teachers.

In closing we say, do not neglect the schools and the education of the children. They will soon be called upon to fill the places of those who now occupy responsible positions in our town affairs.
